

David P. Butterfield

Education:

Undergraduate

North Texas State University
Evergreen State College
Montclair State University – B.A. 1977

Additional Studies

The Julliard School

Graduate Studies

Rutgers University: The Mason Gross School of Fine and Performing Arts – M.M. Conducting – 1983

Additional Graduate Studies

St. Peter's College
Central Connecticut State University
Vandercook College

Orchestral Conducting Studies

Privately with Sixten Ehrling (former Music Director of the Detroit Symphony and former Chairman of the conducting department at the Julliard School) 1983 – 1985

Piano Studies

Murray Present, Montclair University (Montclair, New Jersey)
Norman Durkee, Kay Smith Studios (Seattle, Washington)
Edmund Battersby, Montclair University (Montclair, New Jersey)
Eleanor Statmore

Employment History:

Self Employed Private Piano/Instrumental Music Teacher

Teaching piano, band instruments and bass since 1973

Instrumental Music Teacher, Band Director and String Orchestra Director for the Mahwah, NJ Board of Education

Teaching band, jazz band, strings and general music from 1987 – 2014

Director of the Mahwah Schools Summer Music Program

Handling registration, brochure design and recruiting. Also scheduling for 240 music students, serving as chief financial officer, teaching keyboard class and instrumental music along with jazz improvisation. 2008 - 2014